

MILITANTS PREPARE ATTACK ON ASQUITH

Begin Opposition for Election at Which Premier Will Seek Home Rule Indorsement.

LONDON, April 1.—Militant suffragettes were today preparing for an active campaign against Premier Asquith in the election at which he will seek indorsement of his administration by re-election to the house of commons from East Fife. The election today was set for April 15.

Many militants believe that the premier alone stands between them and the vote. Their hatred for him is intense and repeated attacks have been directed against him. Although no official candidate as has yet been officially designated to oppose Asquith, the suffragettes already are organizing the opposition forces. "General" Drummond will direct the campaign.

The authorities recognized the presence of the militants today by ordering the police to take every precaution against outbreaks, and the Cupar Corn Exchange increased the insurance on its building by $2,000.

Much of the fire and fight had disappeared when the house of commons again took up discussion of the home rule bill today. There was a distinct tone of conciliation in the expressions of both sides. A division was set for April 6.

DANIELS PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO SCOUTS

Secretary of the Navy Says
Movement Is Making New Generation of Fit Men.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels today prophesied that a new generation of men, fit in body, mind and moral fibre, would be one of the results of the Boy Scout movement, and said the scout oath is as wholesome and elevating as the oath of the ancient Athenians, which has become a classic.

The Secretary was the guest of honor at the annual luncheon which Arthur C. Moses, president of the local council, gave to the Washington scoutmasters at the Raleigh Hotel today. The National Council also was represented by James E. West, chief scout executive. The reason for having the luncheon at this time was to instruct the scoutmasters how to handle their troops on "Scout Tag Day" next Saturday. Ten and 25 cent tags will be distributed among the boys on Friday.

"It is the greatest thing in the world for those of us who are growing to more years than we wish to admit, to be able to keep in touch with enthusiasm and youth," said Secretary Daniels. "I manage it very well for I have four boys in my home, two of whom are Boy Scouts, and their enthusiasm and zeal are inspiring and stimulating."

"It is apparent that the boy of today lives under very different conditions from the boy of a few years ago, so that we need such an organization as the Boy Scouts more than we ever did in the past. Even greater than the physical exercises and the direction of the boy's mind is the spirit of the Boy Scouts—the spirit of cleanliness of life and cleanliness of thinking. Those of us who have sons and want to see them grow to strength welcome everything that will safeguard them and from things that might mar their lives before they are old enough to discriminate between the good and the evil."

PUSHING CLAIMS AGAINST 9 STATES

British Bondholders Assert Demands to $75,000,000
Loaned for Improvements.

The United States is criticized for forcing a country like Santa Domingo to meet its obligations while States within its own borders are defaulting in their debts. In a report just issued by the council of the corporation of foreign bondholders, which has claims of $75,000,000 against nine Southern States.

The council represents British bondholders who declare the loans represent money raised for public improvements, and do not include Confederate bonds and war debts. The extent of Alabama's debt is not known. Other States against which the bondholders are now pressing their claims and the amounts sought, exclusive of interest, are: Arkansas, $3,700,000; Florida, $7,000,000; Georgia, $12,700,000; Louisiana, $6,000,000; Mississippi, $7,000,000; North Carolina, $12,600,000; South Carolina, $6,000,000; West Virginia, $15,233,370.

The bondholders answer North Carolina's plea that the debts were contracted while the State was being administered by the Federal Government, by declaring they had nothing to do with differences between the State and Federal Governments. Tennessee, which formerly took this position, made a settlement.

Louisiana's claim is that there were irregularities in connection with the issue of the bonds. The bondholders, in answering this, declare that a State cannot maintain her credit by repudiating responsibility for money obtained from the public because its own officials had acted incorrectly.

Mississippi's loans were obtained between 1861 and 1868 for the establishment of two banks. When the banks got into difficulties through over-speculation the State is said to have made them a excuse for repudiating payment. Efforts are now reopened by the bondholders to obtain settlement from the States. An effort also is being made to obtain a settlement of the debt of $121,000,000 owed British bondholders by the Republic of Honduras.
